(U//FOUO) Occasionally people inquire about SID today's readership. In case you were ever curious yourself, here are some stats from last month to give you an idea:

- Unique visitors (i.e. how many different people accessed the page) during January: 16,899
- Total visits (a "visit" is defined as a session spent on the website accessing the articles or files contained in it): 100,903
- Average visits per SID today edition (the number of editions equals the number of workdays, since we don't publish new material on weekends or holidays): 5045
- Total page (article) views: 280,559

(U) Of course, numbers tell only part of the story. We also monitor feedback to gauge readership interest in a certain topic, and to see how valuable the articles are to specific audiences. Your feedback helps us determine what kinds of articles you want to see in future.
